You are liable for Transactions on the Card Account whether or not the goods or services are delivered or have any defect.

You may not claim a set-off against us in connection with any complaint or issue you have with the merchant. Refunds to the Card Account will be credited only after we receive a properly issued credit voucher.

The period from the date of the Statement to the Payment Due Date shown on that Statement is the grace period, which will be 25 days. If the grace period ends on a Saturday, Sunday or Statutory holiday, it will be automatically extended to the next business day.

There is no interest-free grace period for Cash Advances.

The interest rate that you pay on Purchases and fees will increase by particular rate per annum if you do not pay the Minimum Payment on the CAD Account or the CNY Account by the Payment Due Date shown on your Statement, and that increased rate will continue in effect until you next pay the Minimum Payment on the CAD Account or the CNY Account by the Payment Due Date on the particular Statement.

4.6 Payments

You, the Primary Cardholder, are responsible to ensure that all amounts shown on the Statement are received by us by each Payment Due Date. The payment you must pay us for all:

- Fees and charges payable under this Agreement.

You must pay at least the Minimum Payment shown on your Statement by the Payment Due Date.

The Minimum Payment for a CAD Account is the greater of:

- (i) New Balance in full, if the New Balance on your Statement is less than $10;
- (ii) $10, if the New Balance on your Statement is less than $200 and equal or more than $10; or
- (iii) 5% of the New Balance on your Statement, plus any previously unpaid Minimum Payments, if the New Balance on your Statement is equal or more than $200.

If you have a credit Balance in an Account, that Balance may not be used by you to make a payment on another account. Each account must therefore be paid separately.

If you have bank account(s) with us, you can pay at any of our branches by cash, pay through our online banking or set up monthly auto-repayment.

If you do not have bank account(s) with us, you can pay through other financial institution's online banking for CAD balance.

Foreign exchange by telephone banking is required for CNY balance.

For example, if you are required to make payments using CNY but you only have CAD, we can convert your CAD into CNY if you authorize us to do so, and then pay in the CNY Account.

You must make all payments in full without set-off or counter claim and without any deductions.

4.7 What Happens to Payments We Receive?

Payments to the particular Account are applied in the following rule:

- (i) If your payments are equal to the due payment, the reimbursement order is the sequence of posting dates.
- (ii) If your payments are less than the due payment, the payment we receive is first applied to the highest interest rate item(s), and continuing to the lowest item(s). Your payments are applied only to the current term balance, and not applied to Transactions which have yet to appear on the monthly Statement.
- (iii) If we have received payments in excess of your due payment, we will allocate your payments to the current term balance first using the process described in the section (i). The excess will be applied to Transactions which have yet to appear on the monthly Statement using the following processes:
 - Reimbursement order is the sequence of posting dates if all item(s) are with the same interest rate.
 - Reimbursement is first applied to highest interest rate item(s) and continuing to the lowest item(s) if item(s) have different interest rates.
 - The payment will be identified as "customer deposit" if the excess is more than the sum of current term balance and Transaction balances which have yet to appear on the current monthly Statement. "Customer deposit" can be applied to new Cash-like Transaction and new Purchases. No overdraft interest is charged if transaction amount of new Cash-like Transaction (such as cash withdrawal) is not more than the "customer deposit" amount.

We do not pay interest on any credit balance in the Card Account. A credit Balance in an Account will increase the Cardholder's available credit limit for that Account.

4.8 Fees and Charges

All fees and charges are payable before and after judgment. They are posted to the Card Account on each Transaction occurred date and will be added to the outstanding balance.

We decide the amount and method of calculating fees. You can view the terms and conditions of these at any of our branches or on our website, or on the Disclosure Statement we mail to you. The cash back is accumulated each month and awarded at the next year as a credit on the January statement or, in limited circumstances, at such other time as may be permitted by the Bank.

It is your responsibility to contact a merchant when you want to cancel a pre-authorized transaction. You should check your monthly statements to ensure that cancelled transactions have been discontinued.

On cancellation of the Card or on the termination of this Agreement, you agree to notify the merchant that all future pre-authorized payments on the Card are to be immediately cancelled.

12. Payment on Closure or Cancellation

If a Card or Card Account is canceled or closed for any reason, you must immediately:

- Cut the Cards along the magnetic stripe for your protection;
- Pay the balance owing on the Card Account (including amounts for Transactions not yet processed, accrued interest charges not yet debited, if any, and other charges for the period up to closure or cancellation); and
- Repay any credit provided between the time of closure or cancellation and the time we receive all returned Cards.

13. Closure of a Secured Card

For any cancellation/termination of a Secured Card, the secured moneys shall be released to you only after all your liabilities owing to us under the Secured Card or under any other financial arrangement entered into with you have been settled in full to our satisfaction.

14. Disclosure of Information

To enable us to provide or consider whether to establish the Card Account and provide you with related services, you must supply to the Bank the required information subject to Privacy Statement, which together constitute this Agreement.

15. Variations to the Terms Under This Agreement

We may vary the terms under this Agreement at any time in any way we think fit. We will do so by sending the Primary Cardholder a notice, by issuing a notice that can be viewed at any of our branches or on our website, or by another method we think fit. Variations take effect from when they are stated to take effect whether or not you are aware of them.

16. Applicable Law

This Agreement and the Terms and Conditions are governed by the laws of Canada and by the provincial laws. You submit to the non-exclusive jurisdiction of the courts of Canada.

17. Customer Complaint Resolution Procedures

The Bank is committed to providing customers with the best customer service experience. If our service does not meet customer expectations, customers are able to follow the process below:

Step 1:

Speak with a Bank representative at the first point of contact (i.e., a bank teller, personal banking representative or a call centre representative). Many complaints can be resolved at the first point of contact and often this is a customer's quickest and easiest way to resolve their complaint. Where applicable, the Bank representative may engage the Branch Manager or Operations Officer of the customer's home branch. If a customer is unable to resolve their complaint at this stage, their complaint can be referred to the relevant Business Unit Head.

Step 2:

Contact the relevant Business Unit Head. These individuals have the authority to resolve, in a timely manner, the majority of customer complaints that arise. If a customer's complaint is unable to be resolved at this level, they can escalate it further (see below).

Step 3:

If customer's complaint is unable to be resolved through Step 1 and Step 2, a customer can escalate their complaint to the Complaints Officer. Our Complaints Officer independently and thoroughly conducts a full investigation of customer complaints that cannot be resolved in earlier steps of the Bank's Customer Complaint Resolution Procedures. The Complaints Officer is committed to providing an impartial review based on the available evidence in order to help customers and the Bank reach a fair, reasonable and transparent resolution. Any customer complaints submitted to the Complaints Officer for investigation must be in writing. The Complaints Officer's contact information is listed below:

Industrial and Commercial Bank of China (Canada)
Complaints Officer
Bay Adelaide Centre, West Tower
Suite 3710, 333 Bay Street,
Toronto, Ontario M5H 2R2

Email address : complaint@icbk.ca

A customer will receive an acknowledgement of their complaint within 2 business days of it being received. If the complaint is within scope of the Complaints Officer's authority and has been through the first two steps listed above, a full investigation will be undertaken. Most investigations are concluded within 4-6 weeks and customers will be provided with a written resolution/recommendation. Any recommendations made are nonbinding and parties are free to accept or reject them and pursue other options for resolution.

The Complaints Officer does not investigate complaints related to credit decisions, interest rates, service fees and matters that are in litigation. If a client decides to pursue legal action during the investigation, the Complaints Officer may also cease the investigation. The Complaints Officer does not offer legal or regulatory opinion or advice.

Additional Resources – External Agencies:

We at the Bank encourage our customers to bring their concerns to the relevant business units as soon as possible and to follow the Bank's Customer Complaint Resolution Procedures. If customers are not satisfied with the Complaints Officer's review, customers have the option to contact the following external agencies which can provide the customer with information and a further review of the complaint.

Ombudsman for Banking Services and Instruments (OBSI)

Industrial and Commercial Bank of China (Canada) is a member of the independent Ombudsman for Banking Services and Investments (OBSI), an independent external complaints body.
